

FIJI HEAD TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Strengthening Primary School Leadership

A briefing booklet for the Minister for Education

Leadership • Advocacy • Excellence

One association. A nationwide voice.

The Fiji Head Teachers Association (FHTA) connects primary school leaders across Fiji, representing their professional interests and strengthening the leadership that shapes schools, teachers and student outcomes.

735 HEADS OF SCHOOLS	12 DISTRICT NETWORKS	43 YEARS ESTABLISHED

What FHTA contributes

- A trusted channel between Heads of Schools, communities, partners and the Ministry of Education.
- Professional learning and peer networks that translate policy into effective school-level practice.
- National, divisional and district representation on the issues affecting primary education.
- Practical member support, shared resources and timely communication.

Leading schools. Shaping futures.

FHTA's work is grounded in the daily realities of school leadership. The Association helps Heads of Schools lead teaching and learning, manage people and resources, respond to community needs, and sustain improvement.

Six areas of service

Advocacy and representation. A coordinated voice at district, divisional and national levels.

Professional concerns. Support pathways for members facing workplace and leadership issues.

Professional learning. Workshops, online learning and capacity building.

Leadership practice. Approaches that strengthen teaching, learning and school operations.

Collaboration. Peer exchange through area, branch and national networks.

Ministry partnership. Constructive engagement in education initiatives and policy implementation.

A connected website for public information and member service

The FHTA website combines a public communications channel with secure member and staff services. It gives the Association one place to inform, support, train and connect school leaders.

Three connected experiences

Public website - Association information, news, events, services, resources, leadership and district coverage.

Member portal - Profiles, membership status, documents, helpdesk support, representatives and learning.

Staff operations - Member approvals, publishing, events, resources, support tickets, training, attendance and certificates.

From enrolment to evidence of completion

The training platform supports online, workshop and blended learning. Members move through a clear pathway while staff manage delivery and participation.

- 01 Browse published courses and select an available schedule.
- 02 Enrol, access lessons, resources and learning outcomes.
- 03 Complete quizzes and track progress.
- 04 Check in at workshops using authenticated QR attendance.
- 05 Receive a printable certificate when requirements are met.

Practice for stronger schools

FHTA promotes leadership approaches aligned with the changing needs of learners, teachers and communities.

Instructional leadership

Keep teaching quality and learning outcomes at the centre.

Digital integration

Use appropriate technology to improve access, administration and learning.

Inclusive education

Advance equity, participation and support for every learner.

Community engagement

Build productive relationships with parents and stakeholders.

Data-informed decisions

Use evidence for planning, accountability and improvement.

Student wellbeing

Support learners' safety, belonging and holistic development.

A practical bridge between policy and schools

FHTA is positioned to support effective dialogue and implementation by connecting national priorities with the experience of primary school leaders.

Partnership opportunities

- Structured consultation with Heads of Schools before and during major policy initiatives.
- Joint professional learning on leadership, curriculum, inclusion, wellbeing and digital transformation.
- District-level feedback loops that identify implementation barriers and promising practice early.
- Coordinated communication of key notices, resources and opportunities through the FHTA network and portal.
- Collaborative recognition of school leadership excellence and innovation.

A SHARED GOAL

Confident school leaders, supported teachers, and better outcomes for Fiji's children.
